flectabed™

UNIQUE THERMAL BEDDING FOR CATS AND DOGS

The high-tech thermal bed

Flectabed™ was developed from NASA research into aluminised surfaces, which can reflect up to 95% of radiated heat. It uses a revolutionary lightweight insulating material specifically designed for its thermal properties.

Warm and cosy for your pets

The Flectabed™ inner quilt combines two key elements of thermal insulation to keep cats and dogs exceptionally warm all year round. Multi-layered fibres trap pockets of warm air to reduce heat loss, and reflective surfaces reflect any lost body heat back to the pet. The outer fleece cover is strong and moisture passes through it easily, so wet or damp pets are still effectively insulated from chills.

Recommended by vets

Because of Flectabed's™ unique qualities and suitability many veterinary practises use and also recommend Flectabed™ for the healthy management of animals. Flectabed™ is not recommended for use in whelping.

Covers

Separate waterproof covers, fleece covers and Permafresh® covers are available. Permafresh® works effectively against dust mites, making these covers most suitable for animals prone to skin problems caused by the house dust mite.
